One day, Daddy and I went out for a walk. On the way, we saw a lot of people. We went up and had a look. Oh, dear! What did we see? There was a donkey in the middle of the road. It would not move. The cars and buses could not get past.

Then a policeman came. "Whose donkey is this?" he asked. "It's mine," said a farmer, "but I can't move it." The policeman and the farmer did their best to move the donkey, but it would not move. We laughed, but the drivers of cars and buses were worried. "We can't move the donkey," the farmer and the policeman said. "What shall we do?"

"Give him a carrot!" my father said.

"That's a good idea!" said the farmer.

Soon he found a carrot and showed it to the donkey. When the donkey saw the carrot, it jumped up and walked after the farmer. All the cars and buses could get past at last!

IV. 听短文, 选择正确答案。短文读两遍。

Being safe at school and in your everyday life needs knowledge. If you remember the following information, your life will be much safer.

First, if you are in a strange place, you should notice the environment around you. You shouldn't walk alone outside. Make sure there are public phones. School bags should be carried towards the front of your body instead of putting them on your back. When buses are crowded, it is easy enough for thieves to steal the things in your bags on your back. If you are followed by a stranger, cross the street and go in the other direction. Let the stranger know that you know he or she is there. Next, go and get help from others if it is necessary. Remember not to go home directly. If you have to take a bus to a place far away, try to get to the stop a few minutes before the buses leave. This prevents a stranger from studying you. On buses, don't sit alone. Sit behind the driver or with friends. Don't sleep.

听下面一段独白, 回答 11~13 三个问题。

Good morning, everyone. Welcome to London, Britain. I've got hundreds of things to share with you, but I think listening is perhaps one of the most difficult and depressing of all skills for new international students arriving in Britain for the first time. And of course, it is even harder for anyone who is learning English outside an English-speaking country.

Everyone seems to speak quickly and it is hard to get what is said. But there're some chances to make listening easier. One, when there is only one speaker, such as the news, a lecture; two, when there's a reading text; three, when you are interested in the topic; four, when you know some of the words that will be used.

After hearing this, you will also want some suggestions to develop your listening skills.

First, listen to the news every day.

Second, listen to English for learning information.

Last but not least, listen to some fast speeches.

Good luck for you. Wish you an enjoyable life here in Britain.

W: Wow, David. Because it will protect you when there's an accident.

M: I understand, but it's not comfortable.

W: It's the law. Watch the police!

M: Oh my God. It's so much trouble.

W: It's common sense. Everybody does this.

M: Okay, my seat belt is on. But it's so tight that it's hard for me to breathe.

W: I'm glad you put it on. Hold your breath until we get there.

M: I'm ready for an accident.

W: David! What're you saying?

M: I'm joking.

My children may copy what they have seen on TV. Second, sitting in front of the TV set all day is bad for their eyes. Many students wear glasses because they watch too much TV.

I think it's very important for children to read some books. Reading books will make children think more. When I say this to my children, they just do not answer, for they are too busy watching TV to answer me. So I have decided to sell the TV set. Don't you think it is a good idea?

V. 听短文, 判断句子正(T)误(F)。短文读两遍。

Will it matter if you don't have breakfast? A short time ago, a test was given in the United States. People of different ages, from 12 to 83, were asked to have a test. During the test, these people were given all kinds of breakfasts and sometimes they got no breakfast at all. Scientists wanted to see how well their bodies worked when they had different kinds of breakfasts.

The results show that if a person eats a right breakfast, he or she will work better than if he or she has no breakfast. If a student has fruit, eggs, bread and milk before going to school, he will learn more quickly and listen more carefully in class.

The results also show that having no breakfast will not help you lose weight. This is because people become so hungry at noon that they eat too much for lunch. So they will gain weight instead of losing weight.

W: What will happen there?
M: You'll have a test.
W: Test? I don't like the sound of that. What sort of test?
M: Oh, it's nothing to worry about. It's just an English test to help us find your level of English so that we can put you in the right class. It won't last long.

"I really can't understand why children are so interested in the Internet." We can often hear parents or teachers complain about that. Some parents even say that they liked reading when they were young. But things have changed these years. Almost 20 years ago, some parents nearly didn't know what computers were. Reading might be the only way for them to enjoy themselves. "The world is becoming smaller and smaller." You might often hear this now. Why? The reason is that on the Internet children can chat with friends far away. They can do what they are not allowed to do in real life. All these make them happy and crazy. How could they be interested in books? As parents and teachers, we should give children some good advice. After all, the Internet is useful in some ways.
